

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An electroluminescent device comprises a cathode, an anode, and therebetween a layer containing a host material and a second material comprising a bis(aryloxy)azine borohalide complex. The invention also includes a display
5 device and an area lighting device incorporating the electroluminescent device and a process for emitting light.